

Summer Art Camp

"In 2011, we will have to add a third session," said Ann Wildmon, after summer art camps were completed. Both sessions of camp were filled to capacity and all who participated stated it was the best camp ever! Camp one was taught by Susan Adams, Ann Wildmon, and Linda Pflug, and Camp two was taught by Laura Zierl, Jackie Kelly, and Ann Wildmon. Seven children received scholarship assistance. Susan Adams was 2010 Camp Director, and will be succeeded by Ann Wildmon for 2011. Thanks to Guild Member Terry Godfrey for his help as Camp Counselor and photographer in chief, and to our teen artist/counselors.

UNITED BANK and SHA Inc. announce

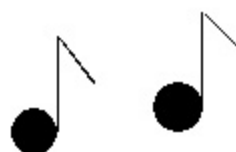

The annual invitational art show and exhibit, Artful Harvest, sponsored by United Bank, will be held at Newton County Public Library on Floyd Street the month of September. This event brings artist participants from throughout the state of Georgia.

Artists compete in two categories, 2 D and 3 D, with 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners in each category. Best in show garners the winner $500. This year's show will be judged by well known Atlanta artist Charles Young Walls. Awards and reception will be held at the library Thursday, September 16, 5-7 PM.

Southern Heartland Gallery on the Square opened for business six years ago September 6, 2004. This would become the home and visual arts center for the multi-county art guild known as Southern Heartland Art Guild, a subsidiary of one of the oldest nonprofit art organizations east of metropolitan Atlanta, Southern Heartland Arts, Inc., incorporated in 1988. The gallery is home to painters of oil, acrylic, watercolor, and pastel, turned wood artists, glass and mosaic artists, jewelry artists, clay and pottery artists, photographers, and fabric art.
